The Oregon Advisory Committee to the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights is hosting two public meetings—May 1 and May 2—to hear testimony regarding civil rights concerns of human and labor trafficking in the sex, agriculture, and forestry industries and equal protection violations and discrimination based upon the race, national origin, religion, sex, disability, and age of the survivors. Additionally, the Committee will examine the effectiveness of state and local agency programs administered to survivors of human trafficking.

In addition to hearing from a panel of experts, the Committee welcomes members of the public to share their experiences, opinions, concerns, and/or solutions regarding human trafficking in the state on May 1, 2018 in Portland, and May 2, 2018 in Woodburn.

Speakers at the Portland community forum include:

- Senator Kathleen Taylor, District 21
- Chanpone Sinlapasai, Attorney, Marandas Sinlapasai
- Natalie Weaver, Multnomah County, Department of Community Justice
- Desiree Coyote, Confederated Tribes of Umatilla Indian Reservation
- Robin Miller, Janus Youth Programs
- Cristin Casey, Bureau of Labor and Industries

Speakers at the Woodburn community forum include:

- Reyna Lopez, Executive Director, Pinosos y Campesinos Unidos del Noroeste
- Carl Wilmsen, Executive Director, Northwest Forest Worker Center
- Joel Iboa, Chair, Governor's Environmental Justice Task Force

Agenda is subject to change*

The U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, established by the Civil Rights Act of 1957, is the only independent, bipartisan agency charged with advising the President and Congress on civil rights and reporting annually on federal civil rights enforcement. Our 51 state Advisory Committees offer a broad perspective on civil rights concerns at state and local levels. The Commission: in our 7th decade, a continuing legacy of influence in civil rights.
